Our Purpose

Headquartered in Napa, California, Regulus is a premier independent Document and Remittance Processing company. Regulus' nationwide footprint is strategically aligned with the USPS to move critical customer transactions the fastest and most innovative way possible. With seven print sites and another six mega lockbox sites across the country, Regulus provides optimal national coverage for delivering documents and collecting payments.

Regulus' sole purpose is moving large volumes of customer transactions while proposing solutions that reach far within an organization. It's not just about delivering documents and collecting payments; it's about the process efficiencies and improvements gained through data mining, exchange and control. By tapping technology and automating processes between these two functions, Regulus pushes cost-effective improvements. Uniting the entire billing and the collection cycle under one provider is what we call Transactions. While other providers sell separate print or remit services, Regulus streamlines the process through one entity with a single resource point for everything.

Our Products

Regulus is known in the industry as being at the forefront of technology and introducing innovative, electronic services to its prominent client base. Millions of dollars are invested annually to stay ahead of the changing business climate.

Concentrating on a small set of industries, Regulus focuses on delivering products and services tailored to its clients' specific needs. We listen, learn and jointly improve and invent products.

Regulus' development of a Web-based tool started as a creative idea from a customer need. It gives clients online control over daily production decisions, such as file approvals, document pulls, special routing and, most importantly, dynamic statement messaging. Regulus recently introduced its mail tracking service that goes beyond regular reporting and integrates the mailpiece data into daily production activities to stop, suspend or change unnecessary, costly production activities. Our clients are finding this online service better aids business decisions and alleviates costs across their customer touch points. These two examples show how Regulus constantly strives to stay ahead of the industry and provide cost-saving solutions using a wide array of automated services. We take pride in leading the way in the industry.

Our Performance

Regulus embraces Six Sigma as its performance program. The "Voice of the Customer" rings loud within our company. Customers receive monthly report cards showing specific data against critical quality standards. Regulus measures, monitors and compensates on performance. People, passion and performance — it takes all three to achieve our organization's strategy for operational excellence.

Your Partner

Regulus responds to customers looking for preferred partners to be an advocate and an advisor in all aspects of a servicing relationship. Regulus partners with companies to transform their processes to higher levels of performance, which immediately impacts bottom-line profitability.
